Abstract

The abstract is a brief summary of your paper. The abstract starts on the second page of your paper, immediately after the title page, and it should outline the key points and arguments of your paper. The abstract should be approximately 150 - 250 words in length. Your abstract should be labeled, with the word "Abstract" centered in the center of the page. Do not indent the first line of the abstract paragraph; however, all subsequent paragraphs should be indented regularly.

Like the rest of your paper, the abstract should be double-spaced, typed in 12 point font (Times New Roman is recommended). Similarly, the abstract should have a page header with the title of your paper in the upper left-hand corner of the page and the page number in the upper right-hand corner; this is the same page header that will run throughout the rest of your paper.
